

Every time Guiteau attempts to address the court and jury in his own behalf, he produces a stronger argument that he ought to be hanged.

Pennsylvania is to have two Republican parties. The Republicans of that State should put their foot on political polygamy. They should have but one party.

The highest vote polled by any candidate on the Republican ticket—except Graham who was on three tickets—was Spooner for Insurance Commissioner. His plurality will be 17,000. Fithell's will come next with 13,000. General Rusk's will be about 12,000.

Dr. John A. Rice, of Waukesha county, went to Washington to testify in the Guiteau case, on the part of the defense, he having sailed far back as 1876 that Guiteau was insane, and should be put in an asylum. In the face of all the testimony offered to show his insanity, it will be borne in mind that no attempts were ever made by any of his relatives to take him to an asylum. His insanity was only pleaded when they attempt to save his neck from the gallows.

The most wonderful piece of civil engineering of this century will be the channel tunnel between France and England, uniting Calais and Dover. The distance will be about 25 miles. The boring has already been effected from the French side to the extent of 1,800 metres or about one mile, and 1,600 metres from the English side. It is not known how many years it will require to complete this herculean piece of work, nor how much it will cost.

A day or two ago there came from Baltimore the following dispatch: "An overflowing house greeted Mr. Edwin Booth at the Academy of Music to-night (Monday, November 21), who enacted Richelieu. He met with a most enthusiastic reception, receiving triple calls at the end of each act. His performance was one of the best he has ever given here." There is some peculiar significance connected with this dispatch, when it is remembered that this enacting of Richelieu was given three days after his second wife was laid to rest at Chicago.

The fate of Mrs. Christy should be a warning to young ladies who are able to support themselves, not to marry decrepit old men simply because they have money. Mrs. Christy before her marriage five years ago was earning $75 a month in the treasury department, and was counted a good clerk. She married the fossilized Christy because he had $40,000 or $50,000. But she learned in a short time that she sold herself for a very small consideration. She got none of his money, but lost her home, her situation, her reputation, and became insane.

Alexander H. Stephens is again in Washington ready for work, and has taken on his old quarters at the National hotel. He occupies the rooms, and has done so for several years, in which Henry Clay died. For ten years Mr. Stephens has been a rheumatic, shriveled, and almost a helpless man. He never was stout nor in good health, but during the past ten years, he has constantly given promise of an early retirement to the grave. But he turns up in Washington at the beginning of every session of Congress "ready for work." All the diseases that flesh is heir to do not seem to disturb the little man. But in addition to his helpless and shriveled limbs and sickly form, he has a cancerous affection of the face which is very painful and for which medical treatment does no good. This diminutive, ill-shaped, and sorely afflicted man is now 70 years old. His life has been one continual round of important events. He has accomplished much, and will stand in history as one of the most striking examples of perseverance this country has produced.

There is some hope, if we take Postmaster General James' word, that we will have two-cent letter postage within three years. The time has come when the postoffice department is very nearly self-sustaining, and whenever the receipts balance the expenditures in that branch of the government, the postage on letters will be reduced from three cents to two cents. Last year the department would have paid its own way had it not been for the star route robberies. Now that they have been cut off, and hundreds of thousands of dollars saved to the government, there is a reasonable hope that an important reduction in the rate of letter postage will take place.

The postoffice department has never been self-supporting in any considerable number of years since the government was formed. In 1860, during Buchanan's administration, the deficiency reached over ten million dollars. Following came the war, and a breaking up of the mail system in the South, and the deficiency was cut down to three millions in 1863, and $200,000 in 1864, and in 1865 there was actually a balance in favor of the government of over $300,000. But straw-bids and star routes, with the re-establishment of the mail routes in the South, have cost the government millions of dollars, and there have been deficiencies ever since that time. During the past few months Postmaster General James has made such an investigation of the affairs and workings of his department as to convince him that within three years two-cent letter postage can be adopted and at the same time even up the expenditures and receipts of the post-office department.

HOWGATE'S OFFENSES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Captain Henry W. Howgate, who now has thirteen indictments against him on the charges of embezzlement and forgery, was brought into court this morning for the purpose of having the matter of bail considered. The court room presented quite a different aspect to that of the days when the Guiteau trial has been in progress. There was a long array of empty chairs, only about twenty persons being in the room, and most of these had the impression that the assassin's trial was to proceed, and seemed disappointed when they found out different.

His honor promised to be on hand at the hour mentioned, so that the counsel could get through and go to church, but he proved to be the tardy one, and kept the case waiting fifteen minutes. District Attorney Corkhill said that the government had indicted Captain Howgate in seven cases for embezzlement and four for forgery, involving about $150,000. Property purporting to belong to the defendant has been attached by the government, and the other side doubt the legality of that proceeding. They have taken steps to test it, and he suggested that a decision be reached before the question of bail be considered. He thought this the best course to pursue.

The court said that he should be compelled to take the matter into consideration. The full amount of the embezzlement had not been given him before; neither had he considered the question of dissolving the attachment, and he wanted to look over both.

District Attorney Corkhill guaranteed that the defendant should have an early trial, and if they settled the attachment case he would then have property valued at $75,000, and could easily give $25,000 bail.

JUDGE COX PERPLEXED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Judge Cox, who presides at the Guiteau trial, is reported to be very much outraged at the manner in which the assassin conducts himself, but has not as yet discovered any way by which his insolence and blasphemy can be prevented, except to remove him from the court room. Judge Cox, it is thought, has conferred with his associate judges on that point, and it is believed that they have recommended that he should not resort to that extremity, or do anything that will furnish Guiteau with a legal technicality to appeal to that "court in banc" of which he talks so much. If threats will not compel the audacious assassin to keep silence, the judge can only put a gag in his mouth, or delay the trial and punish him for contempt of court. To resort to this measure would, it is feared, create sympathy for Guiteau, and perhaps help him before the jury. To punish him for contempt would only be to delay the trial, as Guiteau would only be confined any more than he now is. But he might be put on bread and water. Unless those who are managing the prosecution are greatly mistaken, the trial will not long continue.

GUITEAU'S FORMER SPOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Densmore, of Leadville, Col., is in the city in response to a subpoena in the Guiteau case. She was formerly the wife of the assassin. She was asked to-day by your correspondent whether she regarded Guiteau insane.

"No," she replied, "I never considered him insane. He was of a peculiar temperament, and was very irritable whenever he could not have his own way, but he was perfectly accountable for all he did. He was very vain. He liked to make himself conspicuous, and was fond of notoriety. He liked to have people talk about him, and always seemed to enjoy any kind of notoriety. Why, he enjoys all this have his name in the papers and to think that the people of the United States are talking about him."

Mrs. Densmore said that she had never heard of insanity in Guiteau's family, and the matter was new to her. She does not have any very pleasant recollections of the domestic life with the murderer.

THIERS.

KNOX, Nov. 24.—It is said that Thiers will waive preliminary examination and endeavor to have his case taken before the present term of the circuit court, when he will plead guilty and receive his sentence, providing it can be done in such a way that he will have but one charge brought against him. The title of public feeling has turned considerably in his favor, and this course is advised by his friends in order to save his family, who are highly esteemed, the pain of a long and tedious trial, which could probably not come off before the spring term of the circuit court, with conviction in the end.

ATLANTA'S GREAT BOOM.

ATLANTA, Nov. 24.—The exposition had its biggest day since the opening to-day. Over 19,000 persons registered at the trustees, among whom were over 8000 college students and pupils of seminaries. Among the distinguished visitors were Governor Hawkins, and United States Senator Jackson, of Tennessee. The convention of planters, agriculturists and mill men on Dec. 6 excites great interest. About 13,000 strangers are comfortably housed in Atlanta, with room for 10,000 more. Every man's house is open. The dental convention will be a great success. Friday and promises to be even larger than to-day. A great boom has come to the exposition, and every Southern State is sending the people up to see it.

WRECKED.

PANAMA, Nov. 16.—The steamer Albion foundered in a gale off Point Barbacoas, and thirty-two of the forty persons on board were drowned. The vessel and cargo were valued at $80,000. The vessel was intended for river service altogether, but being regarded as a good craft, her owners (the Siam Steamer Navigation Company) sent her to sea in fair weather between Cartagena and the mouth of the Siam River. On the open sea, with a gale sprang up, heavy seas extinguished her fires, and being placed thus at the mercy of the waves, she quickly went down.

DROWNED.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Nov. 24.—Five boys broke through the ice while skating on the slough this afternoon, and two of the number, Louis Makelt and Frank Pinz, aged about 16 years were drowned. The other three were rescued with great difficulty. The bodies have been recovered.

DIED OF ALCOHOLISM.

RACINE, November 24.—The wife of Jacob Deis, a rag-picker here, was found dead in her bed this morning. She was about 45 years old, and was several months ago married to Deis. The verdict of the jury of inquest was that she came to her death through habitual drunkenness and general depravity.

RECOVERY.

A fortune may be spent in using ineffectual medicines, when by applying THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL, a speedy and economical cure can be effected. In cases of rheumatism, lame back, bodily ailments, or pains of every description, it affords instant relief.

MILWAUKEE CIGARMAKERS.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 24.—The cigar-makers had a mass meeting this afternoon and resolved on a general strike against the rules adopted by the manufacturers and to be enforced to-morrow morning.

LOGGERS.

EAU CLAIRE, Nov. 24.—Loggers are having an unusually busy time just now in hiring crews for the pinoches, making their supply purchases, and forwarding them to the woods. The roads are solidly frozen and in good condition for travel, but the absence of snow prevents much headway being made by log-hauling. About the usual amount will be cut in the Chippewa pinoches should the winter prove favorable for that kind of work, although there is a surplus of over 200,000,000 feet of available logs left in the Chippewa, including the amount stored in the Beef Slough works. The cost of "putting in" this winter will be much greater than the previous seasons, by reason of the high price of supplies.

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife, who was always doctored, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters my wife was cured, and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.
